Published by WILLIAM PICKERING, Chancery-lane, London. Sold by W. F. WAKEMAN, 9, D'Olier-street, Dublin, and by all Booksellers in Ireland.

COLERIDGE'S POETICAL AND DRAMATIC WORKS, with numerous additional Poems, collected and revised by the Author, 3 volumes, crown 8vo. £1. 16s. These volumes contain the Juvenile Poems; Silylline Leaves. Ancient Mariner; Christabel; Prose in Rhyme; Remorse; Zoplyra; the Piccolomini, or the first part of Wallenstein, and his death, &c.

"It is a singular circumstance, and perhaps the most curious and conclusive evidence of Mr. Coleridge's genius, that he has influenced public opinion, and the literature of his country, to a degree not at all to be accounted for by the success or authority of his writings. Mr. Coleridge's poetry only requires to be shown to the eye of the public to enjoy an extensive popularity. As a piece of harmonious versification, Christabel is certainly inferior to nothing in the language; as a poem it is a fragment of fearful interest and almost preternatural power, combined with feelings alive to all that is lovely and endearing in simple human beauty."—Oxford Literary Gazette.

LIFE OF SIR THOMAS MORE, by his great grandson CRESACRE MORE, with a Biographical Preface, Notes, and other Illustrations, by the Rev. Joseph HENNER, F.S.A. 8vo. 14s. with a portrait and a fac-simile autograph.

"This work has been carefully collated with the best manuscripts and printed editions; it has hitherto been attributed to Thomas More, the great grandson of Sir Thomas, but the present Editor has clearly proved that it was written by Cresacre More.

"No illustrious foreigners visited England, without seeking an introduction to More; none departed without admiration of his wisdom, his eloquence, and of the generous hospitality of his house; there was no eminent person of his own country, whose name we do not find associated with that of More; and the most eminent for learning, virtue, and accomplishments, he numbered amongst his friends."—Preface.

"The prefatory matter and notes display that deep research and critical acumen which have established the Editor's reputation as a zealous, and what is far better, as a rational and intelligent Antiquary; and which render this the best edition of that very interesting piece of Biography that has appeared."—Retrospective Review.

LOWNDES'S BIBLIOGRAPHER'S MANUAL; being an account of rare, curious, and useful books, published in, or relating to, Great Britain and Ireland, since the invention of printing; with bibliographical and critical notices, collations of the rarer articles, and the prices at which they have sold in the present century, by William Thomas LOWNDES. Print in double columns, demy 8vo. Parts I. to XX. price 5s. each.

A part will appear on the first of every alternate month. The work will be completed in 14 Parts, and form three handsome vols. A few copies are printed on LARGE PAPER, price 16s. each Part.

"Mr. Lownde's model is the famous Manual of Mons. Brunet, a work of amazing circulation in France; and he has admirably modified his original to suit the circumstances of his own country. We have read the portion already published, amounting to somewhat more than half the entire work, with considerable attention, and pronounce it not merely the best, but the only effort of the kind worthy of notice that has yet issued from an English press. As a book of general reference, it is indispensable not only to Authors, Booksellers, and Collectors, but to every one pretending to, or desirous of, any acquaintance with the literature of his age and country. To know the contents of our best authors is a noble acquisition, but one of immense and laborious research: to know where to look for what we want is almost as useful, and at least an important stage upon the road to learning."—Dorset County Chronicle, June, 1829.

BASIL MONTAGU'S SELECTIONS from the Works of Taylor, Hooker, Barrow, South, Latimer, Brown, Milton, and Bacon, crown 8vo. price 12s.

"If these little sparks of holy fire which I have heaped together, do not give life to your prepared and already enkindled spirit, yet they will sometimes help to entertain a thought, to actuate a passion, to employ and hallow a fancy."—Jeremy Taylor.

"Taylor and Barrow were incomparably the greatest preachers and divines of their age."—Bishop Hurd.

"There is in the prose of Jeremy Taylor more fine fancy and original imagery, more brilliant conceptions, more new figures and new applications of old figures, more, in short, of the body and the soul of poetry, than in all the odes and the epics that have since been produced."—Edinburgh Review, 36.

JOHNSON AND WALKER'S DICTIONARY.—A Dictionary of the English Language by Samuel Johnson and John Walker, with the Pronunciation greatly simplified, and on an entirely new plan; revised, corrected, and enlarged, with the addition of several thousand words, by R. S. JAMESON, Esq. 8vo. price 14s. In this Dictionary, the labours of Johnson and Walker are combined. The accentuation is greatly simplified by the adoption of points instead of figures, the typographical beauty of which will be immediately perceived. This edition supercedes the necessity hitherto felt of having more than one Dictionary for the ordinary purposes of the English student.

ETHICS FOR YOUTH, compiled from the most orthodox writings, and divided into daily portions, by a Member of the Church of England, 18mo. price 2s. 6d. boards.

It has been the compiler's endeavour to make the sacred doctrines of Christianity and the best principles of morality a systematic part of the education of children. These two volumes contain the choicest selections in prose and verse, from more than three hundred authors, explanations of old English proverbs, and several beautiful Asiatic ones.

"We frequently fall into error and folly, not because the true principles of action are not known, but because for a time they are not remembered; he may therefore justly be numbered among the benefactors of mankind who contracts the great rules of life into short sentences that may be easily impressed on the memory, and taught by frequent recollection to occur habitually to the mind."—Dr. Johnson.

ETHICS FOR CHILDREN, divided into Daily Portions, as Introductory to Ethics for Youth, by a Member of the Church of England, 18mo. price 2s. 6d. boards.

"All children should have some sound instruction in the conduct of human life; some necessary and suitable rules of prudence, by which they may justly regulate their own affairs and their behaviour towards their fellow-creatures."

BACON'S ADVANCEMENT OF LEARNING.—The Two Books of Francis Lord Verulam of the Proficiency and Advancement of Learning, Divine and Human, with three Questions translated, an Analysis, and a General Index. Crown 8vo. price 10s. 6d.

"The Advancement of Learning, though much less read than the superficial works of later times, is one of the most entertaining and instructive books in the language. The remarks in it strike the mind with such an evidence of conviction, that the truth discovered pleases like that derived from mathematical demonstration."—Knorr.

DIAMOND GREEK TESTAMENT, with a beautiful Frontispiece of the Last Supper, engraved by Worthington, from Leonardo da Vinci, 48vo. 10s. 6d.—The first specimen of a Greek Testament executed in the diamond type, cast expressly for this edition. The extant receipts has been carefully copied, being the Elzevir of 1624. To insure the greatest possible accuracy, every proof sheet has been critically examined eight times. When bound the volume may be inclosed in a moderate size card case, but the type is nevertheless so distinct and clear, that it may be read with ease and pleasure.

TRAVELS IN THE MOGUL EMPIRE; by Francis Bernier—translated from the French by Irving Brook. 2 vols. 8vo. price 18s.—The appearance of the book excited the most lively interest during the brilliant age of Louis XIV. Gibbon, in a note to his Roman History, says, "That most curious traveller, Bernier, who followed the camp of Aurengzebe from Delhi to Cashmir, describes with great accuracy the immense moving city.—Almost all Delhi followed the court, whose magnificence supported its industry."

"A more curious and entertaining work than Bernier's Travels can hardly be imagined."—Literary Gazette.

BROWNING'S HISTORY OF THE HUGONOTS during the Sixteenth Century, 2 vols. 8vo. boards, price £1. 1s.

"The object of this work is to give a clear detail of the circumstances connected with the troubles generally called the religious wars of France. The facts prove that the church of Rome both instigated and promoted the persecutions of the Hugonots. The sources from which the materials for this history have been drawn are numerous original documents in the Royal Library at Paris, and the memoirs and narratives of contemporary writers."—Literary Gazette.

"This work is a very masterly and rapid sketch of one of the most interesting periods of European History."—British Traveller.

BISHOP BURNET'S LIVES.—Lives of Sir Matthew Hale, and John Earl of Rochester. New edition, beautifully printed, 18mo. two Portraits, 4s.

"Few pieces of biography are so interesting as the memoirs of Sir Matthew Hale and the Earl of Rochester. Their lives form a striking contrast, and are admirably calculated to enforce the lessons of the moralist."—Preface.

"Burnet's Life of Rochester the critic ought to read for its excellence, the philosopher for its arguments, and the saint for its piety."—Johnson.

THE CARCNET, a Literary Album, containing select passages from the most distinguished English Writers, beautifully printed, 18mo. extra cloth boards, gilt leaves, 4s.

"They are the wreath of pearls, and I
The silken cords on which they lie."

"The Carcnet is an elegant little collection of extracts, long and short, verse and prose. It is small but handsome; the selection is made with taste and purity; the printer has done his best; the binder has rivalled him. We wish to recommend the Carcnet to our more juvenile readers, as an amiable little present. It is the only kind of book really enjoyable in the open air—the only kind of book to be looked at when impatiently waiting in a drawing-room either for a dinner or a friend: a snatch here or there is sure to carry off some happy little fragment or other."—The Spectator, August 23, 1828.

"This pretty volume is deserving of its name, though we only take two or three of the smaller jewels off its string."—"The best of ancient and modern authors contribute to this sweet nosegay of literature."—Literary Gazette.

CICERO'S TUSCULAN DISPUTATIONS. A new edition, revised and corrected, by W. Main, 8vo. 8s.

CICERO DE NATURA DEORUM.—Cicero's Treatise of the Nature of the Gods, translated by Franklin, 8vo. price 8s.

CICERO'S OFFICES; the original Text, order of Construction, and an interlinear Translation on the principle of Locke, &c. by William Johnson, crown 8vo. price 9s.—In undertaking to give a literal and verbatim translation of Cicero's offices, on the plan of Locke, it was the translator's object to facilitate the reading of one of the best of books, in the original language, that it may be applied to the best of purposes—the study and exercise of virtue.

THOMAS A KEMPIS of the Imitation of Jesus Christ, translated from the Latin original, ascribed to Thomas a Kempis, with an Introduction and Notes, by the Rev. Thomas Frognall Dibdin, D. D. 8vo. 6 plates, including Salvator Mundi after Guercino, cloth boards, price £1. 1s.

"This is the most excellent book which ever came from the hand of man: the Gospel being of divine original."—Fontenelle.

THOMAS A KEMPIS de Imitatione Christi, edited by Charles Butler, Esq. with a Memoir prefixed, 18mo. cloth boards, 6s.

BISHOP ANDREWS'S PRAYERS, in Greek and Latin. Lancelotti Andrews, Episcopi Wintoniensis, Preces private quotidiane. A new edition carefully revised and corrected by the Rev. Peter Hall, B.A. beautifully printed, 18mo. price 12s.

"Of the writings of Bishop Andrews the most known and the most useful is his Manual of Devotions, composed in Greek and Latin, for his own private use.—For some time before his death the manuscript was scarcely ever out of his hands. It was found worn in pieces by his fingers, and wet with his tears. A late editor of these Devotions thus concludes his advertisement to the reader:—'When thou hast bought the book, enter into thy closet and shut the door; pray with Bishop Andrews for one week, and he will be thy companion for the residue of thy years; he will be pleasant in thy life, and at the hour of death he will not forsake thee.'—Walton's Lives, by Zouch, 4to. p. 53.

Shortly will be published, Part I. to be completed in about 12 Parts, of a new and highly embellished edition, in imperial 8vo.

WALTON AND COTTON'S COMPLETE ANGLER, with Illustrations, by T. Stothard, Esq. R. A. with original Memoirs and Notes, by Nicholas Harris Nicholas, Esq. This edition will be printed in the first style, and embellished with numerous original designs by Mr. Stothard; also by portraits of the fish drawn from living subjects, and actual views of places mentioned in the work from drawings made on the spot, by the same celebrated artist. The text will be revised throughout; and the Original Memoirs of Walton and Cotton will contain many particulars of them, which have been hitherto unknown. In the Appendix, the celebrated Treatise of Fysshynge with an Anglye, by Juliana Berners, will be printed entire from the Book of St. Albans. Names of Subscribers, and other communications are received by the Publisher, where Specimens of the Engravings may be seen. A few copies will be printed upon LARGE PAPER, for the purpose of illustration.
